Dear Frack Free NT

These are my policies about Fracking and the Environment:

Ban Gas Fracking

We don't want fracking in the Barkly. Fracking is too much of a risk to our water. Water is important for us, Aboriginal people and pastoralists and the development of the Territory.

Responsible Mining

Mining is important to all people, we all use the minerals that come from mines, but mining should only occur in the region if, on Aboriginal land the land owners give their free, prior informed consent. And, that mining does not damage the country, its waters and plants and animals. Where possible, our energy should be sought from renewables like solar and wind.

For your questions, I respond with YES for every question. For question 3, I will call for a total ban on shale gas fracking.

Regards,

Jack Green
